Music For Telecommuting Volumes 1&2 – Early Morning/Late Morning

5.0 out of 5 stars Blissfully Beautiful May 7, 2013

Ken Elkinson's "Music for Telecommuting" is a blissfully beautiful awakening from a dream. It is perfect for mornings as it adds a magical mood at the start of the day. The soft melodies help you relax into a state of calm. It is also perfect for any time during the day when you want to feel a sense of peace. I am always impressed with how perfect Ken Elkinson's music is. I'm a long-time fan of his music and listen to some of his CDs every night as I fall asleep. The care he puts into his recordings is very evident and if you like electronica this should be in your collection!
