

California composer releases songs designed to relieve stress in traffic

CULVER CITY, Calif. (NBC) -- A California-based composer is hoping his music will ease your commuting woes.

Ken Elkinson has recorded a series of songs written to ease the tension brought on by traffic.

He describes the tunes as "ambient piano music" that ranges from "dark and droning" to "upbeat synth antems".

The six CD box set can be purchased through his website, <http://www.kenelkinson.com>.
